Individual Skillz Rules:

Throwing for distance:

- Thrower can't touch ground beyond the "take-off" line until the disc is released
- Measured distance will be perpendicular to "take-off" line (tough crap if you toss a 100 yard throw at a 45 degree angle across the field)
- Spot will be farthest point of disc, wherever the disc first touches ground
- Each person gets 2 tosses, and the better of the 2 is used for scoring
- $\text{Score} = 100 * [\text{distance} / 79]^2$

Throw-run-catch for distance

- Thrower can't touch ground beyond the "take-off" line until the disc is released (note that the thrower does not have to be stationary while throwing the disc)
- Measured distance will be perpendicular to "take-off" line
- Spot will be the first (or furthest back if multiple) point of contact between the thrower and the ground after the disc is caught
- Any catch is legal (one OR two handed), but the first contact with the disc must be a catch (no mid-air-corrections or tipping or carrying the disc on your finger, etc)
- Each person gets 2 tosses, and the better of the 2 is used for scoring
- $\text{Score} = 100 * [\text{distance} / 46]^2$

Throwing for accuracy:

- Thrower's pivot foot is 7 yards from a standard-sized Ultimate cone which is suspended approximately 1.5 yards off the ground
- Thrower attempts 5 tosses (thrower's choice: backhand or forehand)
- Any contact between the disc and the cone counts as a hit
- $\text{Score} = 15 \text{ points per hit}$. Bonus scoring: 25 points for hitting all 5 throws

MACing for distance:

- The first MAC must be behind the established "take-off/measurement" line
- Forward progress of the disc is achieved by MACing
- Distance is from the line to the first point at which the frisbee hits the ground, or where your back foot is if you catch it
- Each person gets 2 attempts, and the better of the 2 is used for scoring
- $\text{Score} = 100 * [\text{distance} / 30]^2$

This is not funny:

Drinking Skillz Rules:

The teams that win the Yacht race and the turtle style thing win homeless players, like Warren, that just show up.

Yacht Race:

- Two teams line up facing each other
- Pitcher of beer is given to first person in each line, the click pitchers and yell "TO GLENN!"
- Each person in succession drinks as much/little as they want
- Each person can only touch the pitcher once
- First team to finish pitcher wins

Extreme Turtle-Style Drinking:

Each team will compete within their ranks to find the top 2 from each team. The top 2 from each team will then compete against each other to establish their team's dominance.

- Open can of beer is placed on the floor
- First person to finish beer w/out using hands is the winner
- The winner is determined by the crowd
- Any disqualification due to excessive spilling or hand use is determined by mob justice

TreePee:

This is an individual event for the sole purpose of individual glory.

- There will be a designated tree or fence throughout the night
- Highest drop of urine on the tree/fence wins
- All pees done without a witness are scoffed at and disregarded.
